Meet Our New Missionaries

Alcides and Ruth Lucenas will be very briefly introduced Sunday morning before going to Grandview where Al will preach. After Sunday evening worship all who choose can stay after worship to hear and get acquainted with Al and Ruth and three-year-old Cielo. Their two weeks with us is an opportunity to appreciate them before they leave in April as part of a four preacher team to build a church in Cartagena, Colombia. It is unlikely they will both be back during the next seven years we are committed to work together.

Thirty years ago, Continent of Great Cities began sending teams of workers to build churches in Brazil. Nearly 30 churches have been built and many of them are self-supporting, have elders, and have started many new churches around them. Over the past four years three teams (2 to Colombia) of Baxter grads have gone out and are being very successful. Two years ago Brentwood Hills began planning to support two members of the Cartagena team. Marvin and Evelyn Garcia are our other couple and plan to be here later. If you would like to have the Lucenas be in your class or attend some other gathering, contact J.D. Blackburn or Heath Grisso. Contact Joy Brown if you would like to have them in your home. Interpreter needed.
